- Ensure that chemicals are used appropriately and that contact times are followed.

COVID-19 health and safety rules

The organisation shall make every reasonable effort to enable our staff to work from home as a first option. Where working from home is not possible, we shall make every reasonable effort to comply with the social distancing guidelines set out by the government (keeping people two metres apart wherever possible). To support this working practice, all staff must:

- Adhere to the control measures identified in the COVID-19 Risk Assessment;
- Maintain high standards of personal hygiene in the workplace, including increasing the frequency of handwashing in line with company guidelines and instruction;
- Report any diagnosis of COVID-19 or symptoms (including that of members of their household) to their line manager and refrain from attending work until further instruction; and
- Make use of any PPE deemed necessary for their protection from COVID-19.

Where the social distancing guidelines cannot be followed in full in relation to a particular activity, the organisation will consider whether that activity needs to continue for the business to operate, and, if so, take all the mitigating actions possible to reduce the risk of transmission between employees and other staff in accordance with the measures prescribed in the organisation's COVID-19 Risk Assessment.

Business status

Our current business status will determine the measures we need to put in place to manage the risks presented by COVID-19. We will complete the COVID-19 Initial Audit Form to determine the action we need to take depending on the status of the business (i.e. whether we are closed, partially closed or open).

Premises and activities closed

Although our business activities have been temporarily suspended and our premises have been unoccupied (or partially occupied) during the COVID-19 pandemic, the organisation recognises that there are important checks that we still need to perform. As such, we shall ensure that our premises and buildings are checked periodically so that they remain safe and ready to be reoccupied when the government announcement is made. We shall ensure that prior to reoccupation, reopening checks are undertaken to ensure all necessary COVID-19 risk control measures can be implemented. This will include a deep clean of each building, and a 360Degree anti-viral misting

Working from home

The organisation recognises its duty of care to its employees and shall make every reasonable effort to enable working from home as a first option to reduce the transmission of COVID-19. In doing so, we will assess the suitability of the role for homeworking.

Returning to work

Prior to returning to work at our premises after lockdown, the organisation will consider the following:

- Are there any staff who can continue to work from home?
- Which staff cannot work from home and must therefore return to work?
- Who will continue to be furloughed until further notice?

This will then inform the organisation on who is at risk when we reoccupy our premises and what risk controls to implement. We shall ensure that prior to reoccupation, reopening checks are undertaken to ensure all necessary COVID-19 risk control measures can be implemented.

Arrangements

The following sections sets out the arrangements the organisation has put in place to fulfil its commitment to controlling the risks presented by COVID-19 at work.

COVID-19 Risk Assessment

The organisation shall make a suitable and sufficient assessments of the risks presented by COVID-19 in the workplace. The assessments will be documented, and a record made of all significant findings. Results of the risk assessments will be shared with all staff. The assessments will be reviewed periodically and/or when circumstances change to ensure it remains suitable and sufficient.

Vulnerable Persons Risk Assessment

The organisation recognises that certain people may be at increased risk of severe illness from COVID-19. Clinically extremely vulnerable individuals are advised not to attend work. Clinically vulnerable individuals who are at higher risk of severe illness should work from home where possible. If clinically vulnerable (but not clinically extremely vulnerable) individuals cannot work from home, they will be offered the safest available on-site role to ensure that they can stay two metres away from others wherever possible. If they have to spend time within two metres of other people, we will carefully assess and discuss with them whether this involves an acceptable level of risk.

Employees who are living with a shielded or clinically vulnerable person can attend the workplace. If an employee lives in a household with someone who is extremely clinically vulnerable, it is advised that they only attend the workplace if stringent social distancing can be adhered to. If this is not possible, we do not expect those individuals to attend and they will be supported to work from home.

The organisation will undertake an individual risk assessment for the above categories to identify appropriate controls to ensure their health and safety.

Social distancing

The organisation will assess all work activities to ensure that they meet social distancing measures. To achieve this, the organisation will avoid crowding and minimise opportunities for the virus to spread by maintaining a distance of at least two metres between individuals wherever possible. This advice applies both to inside the workplace and to where staff may need to interact with customers, contractors or visitors.

The organisation will ensure that:

- Where it is possible to maintain two metres between persons, floor markings are used to indicate appropriate distancing (particularly in crowded areas);

- Where it is not possible to maintain two metres between persons, staff work side-by-side, or facing away from each other, rather than face-to-face (if possible);
- Where face-to-face contact is essential, it is kept to 15 minutes or less (wherever possible);
- Signage is used to direct movement into lanes (whilst maintaining a two-metre distance);
- Entry is controlled so that the premises do not become overcrowded;
- Additional signage is used to ask customers not to enter the premises if they have symptoms;
- If feasible, plexiglass barriers are placed at points of regular interaction (i.e. Reception) as an additional element of protection for workers and customers. Where bodily contact is likely, we will ensure that this plexiglass is cleaned and disinfected as often as is feasible in line with standard cleaning procedures.
- The use of digital and remote transfers of material is encouraged where possible (rather than paper format);
- As much as possible, teams of workers are kept together (cohorting or Bubbles) and these teams are kept small as possible; and
- Regular announcements on the Public address system are conducted to remind staff/customers to follow social distancing advice and to wash their hands regularly.

Infection control and effective hygiene

There are important actions that employees can take to help prevent the spread of COVID-19. The organisation will promote:

- Regular and thorough handwashing by employees and cleaning hands more often than usual;
- Good respiratory hygiene (the 'catch it, bin it, kill it' approach); and
- No handshaking or physical contact.

The organisation will also:

- Place sanitising hand rub dispensers in prominent places around the Centre and make sure that they are refilled regularly;
- Make tissues available in the workplace for those who develop a runny nose or cough at work, along with closed bins for hygienically disposing of them;
- Minimise contact with individuals who are unwell by ensuring that those who are diagnosed with or displaying symptoms of COVID-19 do not attend the workplace; and
- Minimise contact with other employees by altering, as much as possible, the environment (such as office layout) and eating areas (such as staggered break times).

Notices and posters promoting infection control best practice will be displayed throughout our buildings. The 'Staying COVID-19 Secure in 2020' poster will be displayed in reception.

IMPORTANT NOTE

Wash hands thoroughly and in particular:

- After coughing or sneezing;
- After going to the toilet; and
- Before eating and drinking.

Cleaning regime

It is possible that COVID-19 can be spread by touching contaminated surfaces and then touching your eyes, nose and mouth. Cleaning an area with normal household disinfectant will reduce the risk of passing the infection on to other people. The organisation recognises the importance of a thorough and effective cleaning regime and will introduce cleaning of regularly-used hand contact points throughout the working day. These include:

- Door handles;
- Banisters;
- Window handles; and
- Regularly-touched items.

A Cleaning Risk Assessment and a safe system of work will be completed with staff before & on their return to work.

Food

Staff are encouraged to bring in their own food to work each day.

- Staff wash their hands using soap and water for 20 seconds before and after eating;
- Areas are kept clean and tidy and dirty dishes are put in the dishwasher (where applicable);
- A frequent clean and disinfect regime of regularly-touched surfaces is in place, using standard cleaning products; and
- Meal times are extended/staggered to avoid crowding.

Personal protective equipment (PPE)

The organisation will carry out a risk assessment to determine whether PPE is required to be worn in the workplace and for particular activities. However, changing our habits, cleaning and hygiene are the most effective measures in controlling the spread of the virus. Current guidance is that wearing a respirator in non-clinical settings is not required; however, the organisation will remain alert to guidance and modify its policy accordingly.

Site visitors and contractors

Hyndburn Leisure will need to take the necessary measures to protect staff from the risks of COVID-19 through visitors, contractors and others coming to site. Unless absolutely essential, the organisation will aim to limit contractors to the workplace in order to reduce the risk of transmission. If contractors attend our site, we shall seek assurances that all visitors have implemented their own COVID-19 arrangements to include the protection of others. All visitors shall be inducted by their host and:

- Will be made aware of our COVID-19 arrangements;
- Will be given adequate information to ensure their safety, including emergency information;
- Must adhere to applicable health and safety instructions and rules during their visit; and
- Must wear any protective clothing as required.

Any accidents/incidents involving visitors are reported through the accident reporting arrangements.

Employees visiting other premises

The organisation will carry out a risk assessment of all employees who undertake visits to other places as part of their work and shall appraise them of the measures they need to take to protect themselves from contracting COVID-19. The assessment will consider the safest form of transport.

Getting to work

The organisation encourages employees to use their own car, cycle or walk to work and to maintain good social distancing and follow the hand hygiene guidance. Employees should wash their hands after being in the vehicle and ensure that the internal areas are regularly cleaned with a disinfectant.

Public transport

When using public transport, a face covering must be worn. Employees should attempt to avoid rush hour times and aim to social distance (where possible). If there is a need to sneeze, they should sneeze into tissues or the upper part of the sleeve. Employees should wash their hands for 20 seconds after to using public transport or at least use alcohol hand rub.

First aid

Hyndburn Leisure has undertaken a first aid risk assessment to determine the level of first aid provision required on site. The assessment has taken into account:

- The status of the business (open or partially open);
- The activities that continue and the level of risk they present; and
- The number of staff on site and the availability of trained first aiders and training of other persons who can respond to an incident.

The risk assessment will be reviewed regularly to ensure such arrangements are adequate.

Accidents and incidents

Certain COVID-19 incidents are RIDDOR reportable. Hyndburn Leisure shall ensure that a report is made under RIDDOR (The Reporting of Injuries, Diseases and Dangerous Occurrences Regulations 2013) in relation to COVID-19 when:

- An unintended incident at work has led to someone's possible or actual exposure to COVID-19. This must be reported as a dangerous occurrence.
- A worker has been diagnosed as having COVID-19 and there is reasonable evidence that it was caused by exposure at work. This must be reported as a case of disease.
- A worker dies as a result of occupational exposure to COVID-19.

Statutory checks

Hyndburn leisure will ensure that statutory inspections as required under health and safety legislation continue to be undertaken. Checks on such area such as Legionella safety, pool microbiological testing and lifting equipment will be completed before the Centre reopens, and If difficulty is encountered trying to arrange for the inspection and the due date expires, the organisation will undertake and document a separate risk assessment if it wishes to continue using the equipment. The assessment will demonstrate whether it is safe to continue to use the equipment and reasons for arriving at that decision.

Fire safety

The organisation recognises it is likely that our fire risk has changed during the lockdown. As such, we will review our Fire Risk Assessment to ensure it remains compliant with the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005. Effective and communicate findings to all staff. Prior to reoccupying the workplace, we shall ensure that fire alarms and emergency lighting functions properly, all fire extinguishers are in their correct location, and fire doors are robust. We will also ensure that we have a sufficient number of fire marshals in place to undertake proactive checks and respond in the event of an emergency situation.

Dealing with emergencies

The organisation will develop an effective COVID-19 Emergency Plan outlining how it will deal with a suspected case of COVID-19 in the workplace. The plan will be communicated across the business so that everyone understands what action will need to be taken should someone experience symptoms or be confirmed as having the virus. In the event of a suspected case of COVID-19 where the person potentially could have spread this to others, we will communicate all relevant findings and necessary actions to those affected, including employees and other relevant parties.

Staff information and training

Hyndburn Leisure will provide clear instructions and information and adequate training to its employees on COVID-19. We will ensure that everyone has the right level of information and training on:

- The hazards and risks they may face, if any;
- The measures in place to deal with those hazards and risks, if necessary; and
- How to follow any emergency procedures.

Employees will also be reminded that they also have responsibilities under health and safety law to:

- Take care of their own health and safety and that of others;
- Co-operate with their employer to help us comply with health and safety legislation;
- Follow any instructions or health and safety training provided;
- Tell us about any work situations that present a serious and imminent risk; and
- Let us know about any other failings they identify in our health and safety arrangements.

Hyndburn Leisure will select the most appropriate means of effectively providing information and training on COVID-19.

Monitoring

Hyndburn Leisure recognises the importance of checking that we are managing COVID-19 risks in the workplace. Such checks provide the confidence that the control measures and other arrangements we have implemented are working properly or, if not, how we could do things better in the future.

We will set up an effective COVID-19 monitoring system in which we will proactively manage the risk through a programme of workplace checks performed at suitable intervals. We will also monitor the health of employees on entry and during the working day to ensure no risks are introduced.

Review

The organisation will review this policy on a regular basis to ensure it remains effective and aligns with current government guidance and legislation. We will work with staff to assess what is and isn't working and continually refine our controls so that they offer the best possible protection against COVID-19.
